Summary / Interpretation

- FY24 shows a dramatic revenue surge (+608.6% yoy) versus FY23, while gross margin compresses sharply to 7.6% from 59.5%, indicating significant mix/pricing shifts.
- Operating performance improved from FY22 to FY23 (EBITDA turning from negative to £20.2m and a 24.8% margin), but FY24 EBITDA is n.a., limiting margin trend analysis for the latest year.
- CFADS is positive in both FY24 (£6.9m) and FY23 (£7.3m), contrasting with the large negative CFADS in FY22 (£(640.8)m) driven by heavy investing outflows.
- FY23 working-capital movements (£3.9m outflow) reduced reported operating cash; excluding working capital, FY23 operating cash was £11.4m versus £1.2m in FY22.
- FY23 leverage is high at 8.5x (Net debt £171.6m vs EBITDA £20.2m), highlighting balance sheet pressure despite improved operating earnings.
- Several FY24 balance-sheet/cash items (EBITDA, debt, closing cash) are n.a., so liquidity/leverage assessments for FY24 rely mainly on cash flow and top-line signals.

Summary / Interpretation

- FY23 leverage is high at 9.6x, based on £171.9m net debt and £17.9m Adjusted EBITDA.
- FY23 facility mix is dominated by term loans (Facility B1 ~£36.0m and B2 ~£135.0m) maturing in Aug-29, plus a £30.0m RCF (of which £16.0m was drawn) and a £75.0m delayed draw facility.
- FY23 liquidity appears modest at £25.8m, combining £11.8m closing cash with remaining headroom on the £30.0m RCF (drawn £16.0m).
- Maturity profile in FY23 is back-ended: £168.7m due after >5 years versus £14.7m due within 1 year; both term facilities mature in Aug-29.
- Total FY23 bank loans + RCF outstanding (excl. leases) sums to £187.0m, indicating a sizeable secured debt stack.
- FY24 disclosures are not available in the provided excerpts, and FY22 data is limited beyond RCF details.
